

HALLOWE'EN HAPPENINGS

How Witch's Night Was Passed by Reno People.

The moon looked down and smiled upon the weird performances of Halloween vitches assisted by willing bands of mortal imps.

Early in the evening, even before Luna arose over the hills, hordes of small urchins sallied forth to locate gates, vehicles and anything in the portable line. Tricks and pranks of a most startling nature were perpetrated, for boys will be boys the world over, and especially mischievous are these ingenious Reno youngsters.

Gates were "toted" out on Virginia road and strewn along the byways, wagons occupied unheard of positions in ditches, on house tops and over fences—the witch did all this, oh yes; for what "gang" of boys, however clever, could do such outlandish things? Then, besides the amazing open air jinks, parties were given at a dozen different places.

The Methodist church was brightly illuminated and a goodly crowd spent a pleasant evening in characteristic Halloween style.

The Women's Relief Corps served a delightful "All Saints' Supper" in Investment Hall, to which The Journal's staff received most cordial invitations. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis entertained a gathering of friends at their residence on 501 Nevada street. This was a unique, old-fashioned party, enjoyed to the utmost by the guests.

Mrs. Goodwin had a few friends in for the evening.

The Sierra Club also gave one of their delightful country dances. Take it all around the Reno people put in a jolly, good night, and the boiling cauldron, bobbing apple, cracked looking glasses and legionary other devices are now to be shelved until one year hence.

Praiseworthy Comment.

We quote this from the Gazette: With Olinghouse Canyon producing billion in paying quantities, Weckend district paying dividends, Pyramid a lively camp and growing more so daily and old Peavine showing up values, with Steamboat mining men confident, the outlook for Washoe as a mining center is quite encouraging.

Verily we say unto thee, Allen, that if you keep on you may possibly boom the county of Washoe, and your own town of Reno.

A Female Drummer.

"The best comedy of the season" is the universal verdict of the press in commenting on the production of "A Female Drummer," the latest success from the pen of Charles E. Blaney. This splendid comedy will be presented at McKissick's Opera House Thursday night, November 7th.

SURPRISED THEIR FRIENDS.

A Dramatic Club Meeting Unexpectedly Terminates in a Wedding.

A very pretty wedding of two of Reno's popular young people took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. W. Knox. It was the social evening for the Reno Dramatic Club, who were out, as they always are, for an enjoyable evening, but in justice it must be said, with no intention of purloining gates. Shortly after their arrival, they having been ushered into the reception room, the doors were opened to the parlor, and there they beheld their host, Mr. Charles L. Knox, awaiting the coming of his bride, Miss Claire G. Dickinson, who was immediately escorted in and given away by her father, the Congregational minister, Rev. Mr. Chase, performing the wedding ceremony.

Miss Minnie Knox and Harry F. Knox, sister and brother of the groom, respectively, acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen. The bride wore a rich gown of white, with accented effect, trimmed with fine lace and jewels.

After the ceremony the Dramatic Club and relatives became the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Knox, and proceeded to enjoy the evening by determining who should be the head of the house, and such minor matters as required their consideration, indulged in a wedding breakfast at midnight and left for home leaving many kind wishes for the future of their host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox will reside in Reno, and The Journal predicts for them a bright and prosperous future, for they both have a host of friends, Mr. Knox being one of Reno's rising young lawyers.

OPINIONS EXPRESSED

Municipal Improvements Give Rise to Varied Comments.

T. K. Hymers—you all know him—is one of the most interested individuals that take a daily observation of the street paving on Commercial Row.

"Very good, entirely satisfactory, so far as I can see. Be an improvement to the community? Best thing that ever happened to the town. No hitch, no difficulties; Commercial Row will be the finest thoroughfare in the State of Nevada in a month from now." Yes, these are the sentiments of one of our County Dads, and he, if anybody, is the one who should be thoroughly conversant with the prospects of this street paving undertaking.

The railroad company are to put in a splendid sidewalk next to their tracks, which explains the reason of this strip of ground not being worked upon by the present contractors. The railroad people will put in iron curbing and promise to fix the promenade right up to the highest notch of perfection.

Of course there are a variety of opinions expressed about this new-fangled scheme; but whatever is conducive to bettering our welfare along municipal lines should be supported by property owners, who, in so doing, will further their own interests as well as that of the future city on the Truckee.

Striking Comparisons.

There was a rousing report of the football game in the San Francisco Chronicle. The details of the game were published in yesterday's Journal, but to show how the Sagebrush boys were regarded from a Californian's view-point we reproduce a quotation:

Nevada had its little coterie of half a hundred excursionists from Reno and perhaps another fifty former Nevadans from this city. The partisans were in proportion to the size of the rival institutions and the population of the sister states. There was Nevada's team picked from only 130 boys in a student body of 280 collegians in a State of but 42,000 people, not another football team in the entire Sagebrush State, and only eight men in a second team to practice against. And there was California's varsity selected from more than 2000 men among about 3100 students in the University of a State having 1,500,000 people, and a great rival university, two big athletic club teams and many other dozens to practice against.

The Injured Football Players.

News comes from the aftermath of the football game to the effect that at least two of Nevada's players were quite badly injured.

President Stubbs received a telegram stating that Cleve Leadbetter sustained two fractured ribs, and will be debarred from playing in the Stanford game tomorrow. Bren Smith added fresh sprains to his weak elbow, and another good player will be shut off from meeting the Cardinal eleven. The one consolation that remains for these injured stars is that to be a battle scarred football player is to be a king in these progressive days of the 20th Century.

TERSE AND TO THE POINT

Little Bits of Items, but Still Worthy of Mention.

Weather prophets prognosticate a stretch of pleasant days for the month of November.

Nothing but a divorce action occurred out side of the County Clerk's usual routine yesterday.

PORTEUR DECORATIVE CO. The fortnightly entertainment of the Nevada Club, which was to be given this evening, has been postponed for one week.

A suit has been brought by Jane Lake against J. A. Fairchild, E. W. Gilmore, et al. It will come up in Court at the next session.

Hunters are meeting with fine success in the surrounding foothills; small game is very plentiful this fall. Quail and cottontail rabbits are bagged in great numbers by adherents of Nimrod's pastime.

Successful Cyaniding.

In the last issue of the Reese River Reveille mention is made of an undertaking by two well known citizens of Reno, viz: Jake Gooding and Bert Frazer. These gentlemen have spent the entire summer at Junction, Nye county, in working up a lot of tailings by the cyanide process.

They have overcome many difficulties and from all accounts their bank of tailings proved to be as good as a genuine gold mine.

Mr. Frazer is a graduate of the School of Mines of the University, and is a competent mining expert. Mr. Gooding has extensive interests in Nevada's gold and silver mines, as well as being a large property holder in this city. Following is the clipping from the Reveille:

Jake Gooding and Bert Frazer arrived in Austin Monday afternoon from Park Canyon, Nye county, enroute to Reno where they will spend the winter months, it being next to impossible to work the tailings during the cold weather. They will return in the spring and resume operations. When these gentlemen first began work they met with many obstacles the principal ones being the rebellious minerals in the tailings, but by practical experiments they overcame them and are now doing well. They have about four hundred tons more of the tailings to work over. They use the cyanide process which catches all the gold.

MOURNED BY MANY

Mrs. J. M. Fulton Called Home by Her Master.

The many friends of Mrs. John M. Fulton will be grieved to learn of her death, which occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Fulton had been ill for the greater portion of October, but no one imagined that her condition was critical, in fact she had been convalescing up to Tuesday, and seemed in a fair way for a speedy recovery. She suffered a relapse, however, and being troubled with a weak heart, her condition became serious, and her decline has been steady since Tuesday.

The numerous kind traits, and the noble character of Mrs. Fulton have endeared her to all who knew her; so not only will she be mourned by her stricken relatives, but by a host of sympathetic friends.

Mrs. Fulton was born in Nevada, April 11th, 1853, married J. M. Fulton in 1872, and has resided in Reno for a number of years.

She leaves a husband, son and several sisters to mourn her loss.

The funeral services will be held at Trinity Episcopal Church, at 2:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

The Journal extends its sincerest sympathies to those who are bereft of a loving wife, a devoted mother and an affectionate sister.

Death of a Bright Child.

Robert Tuck, the little six-year-old son of Prof. and Mrs. N. E. Wilson, died yesterday afternoon at 3:25 o'clock. The little fellow had been sick only three days and his sudden death comes as a severe blow to the parents, who can scarce realize that their darling will nevermore greet them with his sunny smile and merry prattle.

The child was possessed of most endearing qualities; he was a young genius, having a decided gift for drawing and copying. Frequently his mother would find him seated in a quiet corner busily engaged in sketching from his picture books, or darning on his imagination for subjects.

But he who is all wise deemed it best that Robbie should be summoned from this troubled sphere; and, in realizing that their child has escaped the trials of the wilyk world lies the greatest consolation to the bereaved mother and father.

A strange coincidence that the baby was ushered into this world at 3:25 p. m. of a Thursday and was called hence on the same day at the same hour just six years and five months later. Spinal meningitis was the cause of the child's death.

The funeral will be held from the residence of Prof. Wilson on next Sunday afternoon, and will be private. Friends are invited to call Friday or Saturday.

Chance to Earn a Dollar.

Editor Journal—Several days ago you mentioned that I had prospected the excavations that are being dug by a force of men employed by Mr. Gosse, who is getting ready to build a great big annex to the Riverside hotel. The report was, too, that I had found gold—how much you said not.

Now, as my name is called in question, let me give the result of my investigations as follows:

Yes; I went into the "diggings" with only a pan and shovel and took what

I estimated at six pounds of dirt or pay gravel. This I washed down until I had a clear trace of gold and black sand, which when dry weighed fifty-one grains. This residue I assayed and found it was worth $492.50 per ton.

I now have a great big dollar which I will give to the first person who will tell Professor Lewers of the State University, how much the original dirt or gravel was worth per ton, assay value; no one barred.

A word from Professor Lewers will get my dollar.

H. H. BECK, Oct. 31., 1901.

Newsy Items from the "Republican" About the Lumber Camps Around Truckee.

The Alder Creek mill has closed down for the season.

Six inches of snow fell at Hobart Mills during the last storm.

The Southern Pacific paycar made glad the hearts of the railroad men this week.

Dave Newbeth died suddenly at McCormick's Camp above Overton last Tuesday evening.

Schaffer's mill was closed down Monday after a very successful summer. The live stock was taken to Reno Tuesday for the winter.

The party which has been surveying for the proposed tunnel through the Sierras has moved back to the Donner ice plant. Their first route was feasible as far as the tunnel was concerned but it brought them out on the precipitous cliffs of the American river, canon, and now another survey will be made which will bring them out on the Yuba river. It will take three years to fully determine the matter of building the tunnel.

A teamster hauling freight from Hobart Mills to Meadow Lake gave a stranger a lift on the road, and the stranger, in return for the man's generosity, attempted to forcibly relieve the kind hearted teamster of his ready cash. Things went wrong with the ungrateful wretch, for the would-be thief suddenly found himself sprawling upon the ground, and the infuriated teamster followed up this knockout blow by pursuing the man with a hatchet.

The California mule seems to be in good demand just at present, and Joquin county is shipping carloads of the animals East every week. At 60 to $80 per head, there is more profit in mules than in almost any other agricultural product.

Nevada mules are every bit as good as California's long ears.

A Strong Woman

Iowa City, Iowa, Aug. 15, 1900
My wife was sick for three years. We tried everything without relief and spent much money. My wife tried Wine of Cardui and four bottles cured her. She took two more bottles, knowing she would have to work hard during the hay harvest. She attended to all her household duties and loaded and unloaded all the hay. This medicine gave her strength. Formerly she was weak and tired and could hardly get about, but since she has been taking Wine of Cardui she feels better and stronger than when 20 years of age. JOS. A. EISENHAFER.

Mrs. Eisenhafer had tried everything during her three years sickness and had spent considerable money. She was weak and could hardly get about for three years before she took

WINE OF CARDUI

Now, after taking the Wine of Cardui, she can work with her husband in the hay field. That is hard work, but it is not as injurious to a woman's health as labor in stores, factories and offices where thousands of girls are closely confined year after year. With the aid of Wine of Cardui a woman can do any reasonable work and enjoy good health. The health that Wine of Cardui brings makes a woman vigorous in body and mind. Freed from those terrible devastating pains a woman grows well and strong naturally. Wine of Cardui regulates the disordered menstruation and cures leucorrhoea, falling of the womb and periodical pains in the head and back caused by standing or sitting a long time in the same position. Theodora's Black-Draught puts the bowels, stomach, liver, kidneys and blood in proper shape. Greatly increased strength and endurance is the natural result. Most cases are cured quickly. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui and 25 cent packages of Theodora's Black-Draught.

E. VERNON,
Virginia St., near Iron Bridge

"Bonanza" Clippings.

The waiter girls in the restaurants in Tonopah have organized a union and established the wages at $2 per day, and pay each night, and have a clause in their by-laws "that any girl or woman found working for less than the wages established will be escorted to the lower end of town and given the down the canyon route," which in plain words means, "you hike it out of town and p. d. q."

A business firm in Tonopah that would send away for its printing to save two dollars should not succeed in business and its name ought to be given to the public. This is a union town and the sooner such firms are out of it the better.

There is still a cry for lumber. None to be had in town. This condition has prevailed ever since the camp started. Are there no people on the Pacific Coast with money they want to invest and receive a good percent on their venture? Lumber is wanted and plenty of it.

A Run of Luck.

A particularly lucky individual tackled the Roulette wheel at the Palace last evening and by his unusual methods attracted quite a crowd of spectators, who forgot their own fascination for the game in watching the aforesaid lucky one. The game stood a good show of losing its pile more than once, but when the young fellow cashed in his chips he left the man at the wheel sufficient to start in afresh upon others with whom kismet dealt harshly

Building and Loan Talk No. 4.

In the first talk we told you all about our security features. In the second talk we told you the character of our head officials. In the third talk we told you the details of our Reno organization. In this fourth talk we will touch on our beautiful loaning features, for, according to the parlance of the day, "This is where we shine." To begin with, you must fully understand that our loaning plan radically differs from that of the old-time building and loan companies. We divorce our loaning from our investing departments. The old plan was to make the poor unfortunate borrower pay on the loan until the investor's stock reached maturity. It frequently happened that the borrower would expect to get out of his contract in a certain designated number of months, when, to his great amazement, he would find that the payments would be continued three, six, twelve or twenty-four months longer. This caused a great injustice to the borrowers. We have now reversed all these old, obsolete and fossilized ideas, by giving you a definite loan, to be paid for in any designated number of months that suits you, permitting you to repay or pay off said loan any time after twelve months. To explain the matter differently, we simply ask how much money you want. Then we take the principal that we advance you and add to that principal a reasonable rate of interest for the whole period, making a fixed sum, then add these two sums together, getting the total amount, after which the total amount, embracing principal and interest, is divided by the number of months that you want to take to pay off the loan. The conclusion is a certain sum to be paid monthly. When you make your last payment your loan dies. This is called the "amortization loan." "Amort" means death, therefore, you get a death loan that reaches maturity regardless of the investor's stock. The two departments in our company are kept separate, the one having nothing to do with the contract of the other. Should you wish to pay faster than your monthly payments call for you can do so. The surplus you pay in over and above the regular amounts immediately commence to produce interest for you and cut your time of maturity down accordingly. In tomorrow's issue we will answer some of the objections put forth against a building and loan investment.

Note our strong list of head officers:

A. A. Watkins (Vice-President of W. W. Montague & Co., and President of San Francisco Board of Trade)

Charles R. Bishop (Vice-President Bank of California), Vice-President.

S. Prentiss Smith (Director Bank of D. O. Mills & Co. Sacramento), Treasurer.

Clarence Grange (Late Building & Loan Commissioner Montana), Secretary.

For further information see T. W. Griffin, Field Manager, or assistants at Riverside Hotel.

Reno payments may be made to the Washoe County Bank.
